WEBSITE REDESIGN PREVIEW

Temani Adams Law, tough as nails online.

A homepage redesign built around one goal: making it easy for people facing federal charges, Texas charges, or the loss of a loved one to book a consultation with you.

PREPARED FOR TEMANI M. ADAMS · NOVEMBER 4, 2026

01 · AT A GLANCE

Before and after, in one page

The biggest differences between your current homepage and the redesign.

AREA	BEFORE	AFTER
Booking	"Call Now" and "Email" buttons. The only form is at the bottom of the page.	A consultation form in the hero, a Book a Consultation button that stays in the header, and Book My Consultation next to your number.
Navigation	Six menu links (two with dropdowns that lead off the homepage) plus Call Now and Email buttons.	Four links (About, Practice Areas, Reviews, Contact) that jump to each section and highlight as you scroll.
Reading	About 100–150 words per service card and a long About paragraph.	Three short bullets per card and a one-sentence About. The full detail moves to service pages (page 12).
Practice areas	Four federal services shown. Wrongful death appears only in the menu.	All eight services (four federal, four wrongful death) in one carousel with a 01 / 08 counter.
Reviews	A widget showing three reviews at a time and "82 Google reviews."	13 real Google reviews in moving columns, your current 4.7 rating from 91 reviews, and buttons to read all or leave one.
Contact	Name, email, phone, and message. Office details only in the footer.	A topic dropdown (General question first), a shortcut to the consultation form, and an office card with your hours, address, and social links.
Look and feel	Tan boxes, mixed fonts, and colored logos on white.	Your logo pink and champagne on a deep plum-black, with Bodoni Moda headlines and Poppins text.
Sharing	Shared links show a photo of a car accident.	Shared links show a preview card of the homepage with your headline and form.

Book a consultation in one step

The first screen now does what matters most: it lets someone request a consultation without hunting for it.

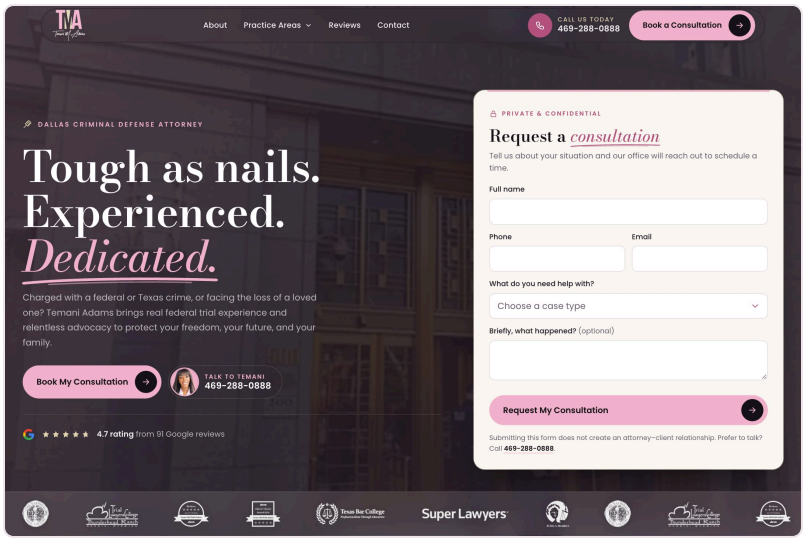

WHAT CHANGED

- Consultation form beside the headline: name, phone, email, case type, and an optional note.
- Same headline you chose, "Tough as nails. Experienced. Dedicated.," with "Dedicated." in pink and underlined.
- Book My Consultation button plus a Talk to Temani call button with your photo.
- Your 4.7 Google rating sits right under the buttons.
- Background photos from your site rotate with a slow zoom under a dark wash.
- Header floats as a pill, then becomes a full-width white bar when visitors scroll. Book a Consultation is always visible.
- Menu trimmed from six links to four.
- Award logos turned white and scroll in a frosted strip.

BEFORE

AFTER

Your story, at a glance

The same facts as your About paragraph, cut down so visitors can take them in within a few seconds.

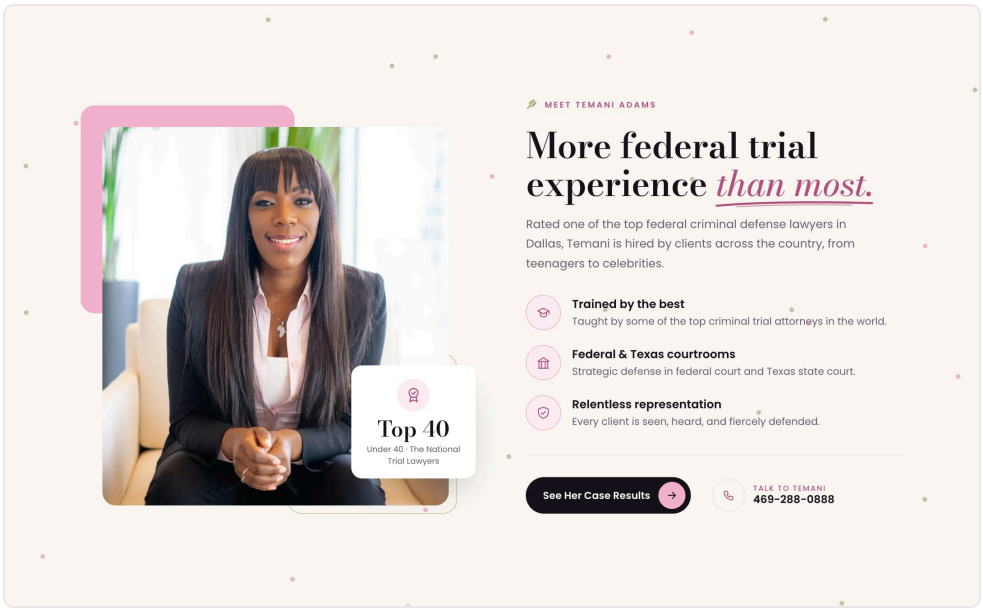

WHAT CHANGED

- New heading: “More federal trial experience than most.” (was “White Collar Crimes & Wrongful Death”).
- About 100 words became one sentence plus three short points: Trained by the best, Federal & Texas courtrooms, and Relentless representation.
- Full-size seated photo with a pink accent block and a Top 40 Under 40 award card.
- See Her Case Results button and a direct call link replace “Discover More.”

AFTER

Every service, easy to scan

All eight of your services now live in one place on the homepage, each summed up in three short points.

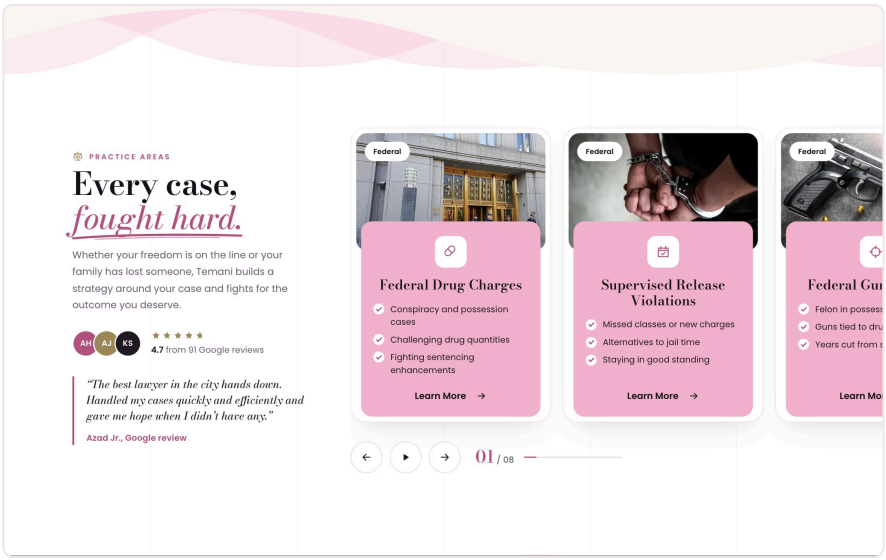

WHAT CHANGED

- Eight cards, not four: Federal Drug Charges, Supervised Release Violations, Federal Gun Charges, and Early Discharge, plus Fatal Car, Drowning, 18 Wheeler & Commercial Vehicle, and Workplace Accidents.
- Three bullets per card replace two paragraphs each, using the photos already on your site.
- Carousel with arrows, a pause button, and a 01 / 08 counter. It moves slowly and stops when hovered.
- Left side: “Every case, fought hard.” with your rating and a client quote from Google.
- Menu links jump straight to each card.

BEFORE

AFTER

Your clients, in their own words

Real Google reviews, shown many at once instead of three at a time.

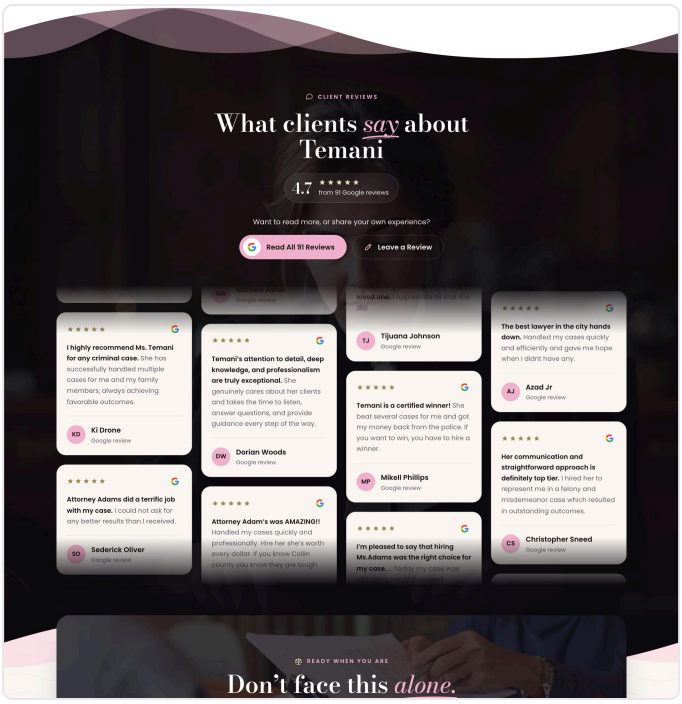

WHAT CHANGED

- 13 real reviews copied word for word from your Google profile. Long ones are trimmed with "…" and nothing is reworded.
- Columns drift up and down in opposite directions, fade at the edges, and pause on hover.
- Current numbers: 4.7 stars from 91 reviews (the old widget said 82).
- Read All 91 Reviews opens your Google listing. Leave a Review opens Google's review form directly.
- Courtroom photo background with a wave edge.

BEFORE

06 · CALL TO ACTION

One last, clear invitation

Before the contact section, a single card gives visitors two simple next steps.

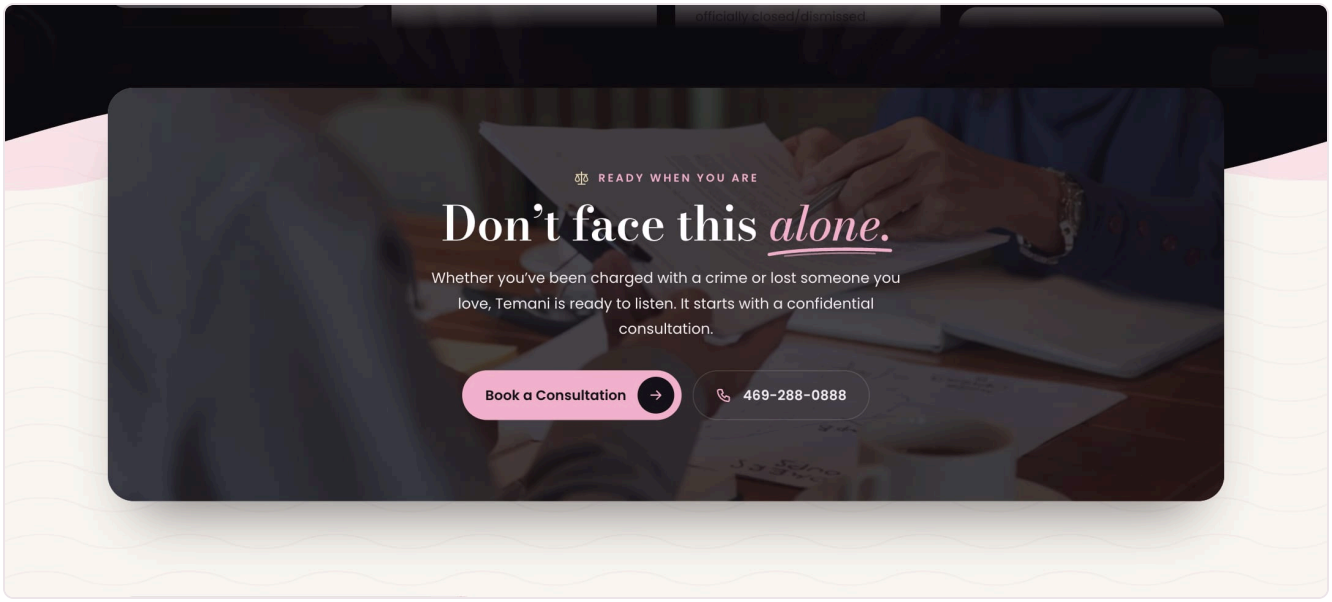

WHAT CHANGED

- "Don't face this alone." replaces "Been Charged With A Crime? You're In The RIGHT Hands." It speaks to both criminal and wrongful death clients.
- Two actions: Book a Consultation (goes to the hero form) and your phone number.
- The card overlaps the reviews above, so the page flows instead of stacking in blocks.
- The "Current Clients" banner is gone. Make a Payment now lives in the footer.

AFTER

07 · CONTACT & FOOTER

Everything to reach you

A contact form for general questions, with your office details right beside it.

WHAT CHANGED

- Topic dropdown with General question first, then each practice area and "Current client or payment question."
- "Looking to book a consultation? Click here" sends visitors to the hero form.
- Clear error messages for missing fields, and a thank-you message on send.
- Office card: photo, phone, email, address (opens Google Maps), office hours from your Google listing, and Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, and TikTok.
- Footer: practice areas, quick links, contact details, Make a Payment (LawPay), and Back to top.
- On phones, the form comes first.

BEFORE

AFTER

The first two screens, side by side

Most visitors will find you on a phone. Here are the first two screens of each version, top to bottom.

- Before: the first two screens show the headline, a Learn More button, and the logo strip. There is no way to book.
- After: Book My Consultation, Talk to Temani, your rating, and the start of the consultation form, all within two screens.

09 · ON PHONES

The full page, part one

The whole redesigned homepage on a phone. Read each column top to bottom.

The full page, part two

On phones, the header becomes a slim bar with pink call and menu buttons, and the menu opens full screen.

What you'll see on the live site

Screenshots can't show movement. These are the details to look for when you open the link.

01 Rotating hero photos

Three photos from your site (the courthouse, the judge, and a client meeting) fade into each other while slowly zooming in and out.

02 Header that changes on scroll

The floating pill stretches into a full-width white bar, and the logo switches to its dark version. The menu link for the section on screen turns pink and underlined.

03 Slow fade-ins

Every section below the hero fades up as it scrolls into view, with headings first, then text, then cards.

04 Hand-drawn underlines

Each pink accent word (Dedicated, consultation, fought hard, say, alone, Ask us) gets a brush underline that draws in from left to right.

05 Practice areas carousel

Cards glide on their own and loop back to the start. The counter and progress bar track your place.

06 Drifting reviews and moving bands

Review columns drift in opposite directions. "Tough as nails ✱ Experienced ✱ Dedicated" scrolls up the contact card, and the award logos scroll across the hero.

07 Built for everyone

Visitors who turn off motion on their device see a still version. Every button works with a keyboard and is labeled for screen readers.

08 Back-to-top button

A pink arrow button appears in the bottom right once visitors scroll down.

Service pages and final details

To keep the homepage quick to read, the detailed explanations from your current site move to their own pages. Each "Learn More" button is already linked to its page, ready to be built.

Please confirm

- [ ] Where form submissions should go (email or intake system). The two forms check every field and show a thank-you message, but they don't send anywhere yet.
- [ ] The wrongful death card bullets. Your homepage had no text for these four, so the wording is ours.
- [ ] The footer disclaimer: "The information on this website is general information, not legal advice."
- [ ] Texas criminal cases: your site has no photos for these yet. We can add cards once you have images.
- [ ] A high-resolution courthouse or Dallas photo, if you have one, to keep the hero background sharp on large screens.

Thank you, Temani.

Thank you for taking the time to look through this. The goal was to keep everything that makes your brand strong (your headline, your colors, your record) while making it far easier for the people who need you to reach out.

To make it fully yours, we'll need where the forms should send, the content for your wrongful death pages, and your sign-off on the items on page 12.

If anything here sparks an idea, I would love to hear what you think.
